

A Symphony of Knowledge And Unity

Beneath the golden African sky,
By the Vaal where waters lie,
A fortress stands, both proud and true,
A home for hearts—dear NWU.

A Legacy of Strength and Time
Through challenges endured, through winds that blew,
Three became one, yet many grew.
From Potchefstroom's halls of old,
To Mahikeng, with stories bold.
Vanderbijlpark, with rivers of gold,
Each a thread in this great dream.

History whispers in every stone,
Lessons carved, foundations sown.
A journey built on sweat and mind,
A legacy for all mankind.

A Tapestry of Cultures Bright
One voice, yet many tongues,
A chorus where each soul belongs.
From every land, from every race,
Diversity finds its warm embrace.

A handshake firm, a knowing smile,
A spirit walking every mile.
Ubuntu breathes in every hall,
A place of welcome, home to all.

A Throne of Learning, Bold and Wise
Through open books and minds that spark ideas,
dancing within the dark.
Innovation, a thought set free,
A lighthouse shining endlessly.

Scientists dream beyond the stars,
Entrepreneurs break their bars.
Leaders rise, their voices strong,
A future shaped, a battle song.

A Beauty Carved by Nature's Hand
Jacarandas paint the streets in bloom,
Their petals soft as nature's plume.
The river hums, the gardens glow,
A canvas where bright futures grow.

The wind that sings, the sun so bright,
A campus bathed in golden light.
Statues standing, whispers near,
Echoes of those we hold dear.

Forever NWU

Beyond these gates, our journeys start,

But NWU stays in our heart.

No matter where our footsteps stray,

Its spirit walks with us each day.

A place of hope, a dream come true,

A family strong—forever my NWU.
